DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 16-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Elliott et al (U.S. 6,335,927) and further in view of Johnson et al (U.S. 2002/0095400).

As per claims 16,22-24,25 Elliott disclosed a method for managing a plurality of services located on a plurality of servers as an extensible services, comprising: providing a service map management service that receives service location information from each of the plurality of services and generates a service location map comprising a listing of at least one of the plurality of the services included on the extensible service bus and server location information corresponding to each service of the at least one service (col. 30, lines 27-48); a connection status service to monitor the connection status of subscribers and the servers connected to the extensible service bus (col. 37, lines 41-54); and providing a network control service, wherein the network control service causes a setting on a network device to change to establish a network physical connection to the agent machine, and the network physical connection compiles with a requirement for the agent machine to use one of plurality of services (col. 107, lines 41-60).

Art Unit: 2145

However Elliott did not disclose in details providing a registration service where an agent machine can register as a subscriber with the extensible service bus and receive a subscriber identification; providing a login service where the agent machine can connect to the extensible service bus using the subscriber identification.

In the same field of endeavor Johnson disclosed in one embodiment, content delivery bandwidth utilization by individual content supplier or users may be tracked and logged by system management engine enabling an operator of the content supplier or users may be tracked and logged by system management engine enabling an operator of the content delivery system to charge each content supplier or user on the basis of the content volume delivered (Page. 10, col. 0095). Non-continuous and/or stored information management of unique/non-unique information anticipated number of simultaneous subscribers and/or simultaneous stream event duration, system resources per subscriber (Page. 31, col. 0261).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to have incorporated providing a registration service where an agent machine can register as a subscriber with the extensible service bus and receive a subscriber identification; providing a login service where the agent machine can connect to the extensible service bus using the subscriber identification as taught by Johnson in the method of Elliott to increase the utilization of the server and maintain a premium quality for the customer.

Art Unit: 2145

3. As per claim 17 Elliott and Johnson disclosed providing a subscriber profile database service that stores subscriber data that is required for access to the extensible service bus (Johnson, Page. 35, col. 0291 & 0292).
4. As per claims 18 & 19 Elliott and Johnson disclosed transmitting a copy of the service location map to each subscriber to the extensible service bus (Elliott, col. 30, lines 27-48).
5. As per claim 20 Elliott-Johnson disclosed providing a message posting service for sending messages directly to subscriber when the subscriber is connected to the extensible service bus (Elliott, col. 145, lines 39-51& col. 144, lines 59-67).
6. As per claim 21 Elliott-Johnson disclosed state change service enables the agent machine to communicate via the broadband network (Elliott, col. 135, lines 1-11).
7. As per claim 26 Elliott-Johnson disclosed further comprising causing the agent machine to install a service interface (Elliott, col. 22, lines 19-21).
8. As per claim 27 Elliott-Johnson disclosed further comprising causing the agent machine to update a service interface (Elliott, col. 21, lines 64-67).
9. As per claim 28 Elliott-Johnson disclosed further comprising causing the agent machine to update a load balancing algorithm (Elliott, col. 39, lines 58-65).

10. As per claim 29 Elliott-Johnson disclosed further comprising causing the agent machine to update a fail over mechanism (Elliott, col. 21, lines 64-67).

11. As per claim 30 Elliott-Johnson disclosed further comprising causing the agent machine to interact in accordance with a distribution architecture (Elliott, col. 135, lines 1-11).

12. As per claims 31-35 Elliott-Johnson disclosed wherein the network device is not one of the plurality of servers (Johnson, Page. 4, Paragraph. 0047).

13. As per claims 36-40 Elliott-Johnson disclosed wherein the setting is a desired line speed (Elliott, col. 135, lines 1-11).
